Plan Concert At L-W To Honor The 1956-57 Band

The annual Lincoln-Way high school's anniversary band concert is to be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30, at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Three years ago the band embarked on a program to hold anniversary concerts at which special tribute would be paid to the bands of former years.

This year the 1956-57 Lincoln-Way band is to be honored.

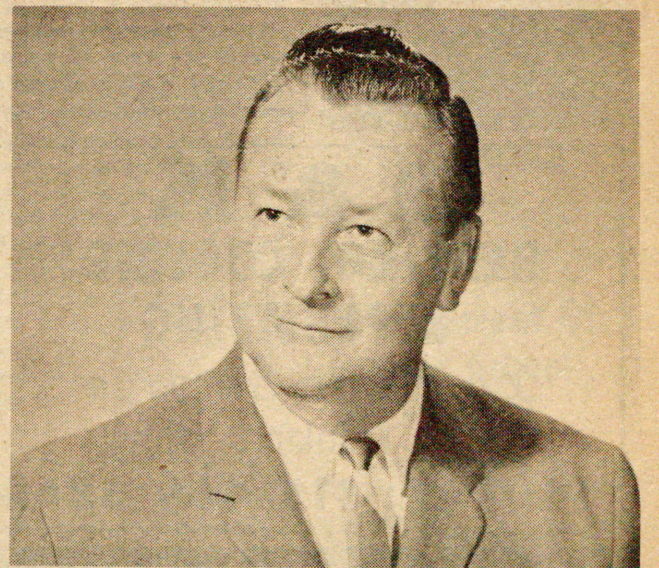

Arrangements for the concert are being made by Robert Taylor, director, assisted by Randolph Kummer.

"The band of 1966 takes great pride in dedicating this concert to the members of the 1956-57 band," Mr. Taylor said.

The 1956-57 band grew from the original 29 members to 48 by graduation time. The senior members were Virgil Hammond, William McCormick, Thomas Rowswell, Jeanette Sievert, Joan Teague, LaVerne Ullrich and James Warning.

Small but mighty the band marched at football games, played at all home basketball games, gave several concerts and the members, collectively and individually, distinguished themselves in various contests.

In making up the program for this year's concert the selections will include a novelty number by Wayne Robinson, "The Flea," featuring the flute section, and selections from the Broadway hit, "Oliver." Also scheduled will be a timpani solo by Dan Brown, a sophomore, "Timpat," by Robert Leist. A large audience is expected as these anniversary concerts have become very popular with the public. Tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and may be purchased from any band member or at the door.

Talks Of Dog, Horse Track For Mokena

Robert F. Bennett, Harvey, a former assessor in Cook county and a real estate appraiser, said Monday while on a visit to Mokena, that he was planning to build and operate a track here for quarter-horse racing and also an oval for dog racing.

Both tracks, he said, would have pari mutuel betting. His plans call for opening the tracks July 1.

Bennett was not specific as to the exact location of the track sites. He is looking, he said, for persons to operate the concessions planned to serve the public.

As far as can be ascertained no petitions have been filed yet with county or village zoning boards pertaining to the venture.

DIANE WINDSOR, British character actress and comedienne, currently enroute to England from Hollywood where she made her American film debut, will address the Lincoln-Way teachers institute at Lincoln-Way high school Jan. 24. "British versus American Humor" will be her subject. She will be introduced by Minnie L. Pester, president of the Lincoln-Way Teachers Association.

Altho this is a teachers institute anyone in the area interested in hearing this talented actress is invited to attend. The institute is at 10 a.m. next Monday.

Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, but of English parents, Miss Windsor began her acting career at an early age. She was a pupil of Elsie Fogarty, noted dramatic teacher for eight years and also studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art for four years.

Perhaps her greatest thrill came the day she was given a role on the stage of "Old Vic" in London. She first endeared herself to English audiences with her warm, excellent portrayals at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

Her flair for comedy has come to the fore only in recent years. Today the screen is demanding her talents.

Contract For Village Truck To Cooper Show

Cooper - Show Ford was awarded the contract for a truck chassis by the Frankfort village board. Cooper-Show edged out Warning Chevrolet in the bidding by $8.31.

The bids were restricted to Frankfort auto firms so there were two. The Cooper-Show figure was $3,491.69; the Warning Chevrolet bid was $3,500.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, head of the street committee, who had the specifications drawn for the vehicles, reported to the board that he had read thru the offerings of each firm and recommended that the Cooper-Show bid be accepted. The motion carried unanimously. He is now preparing to take bids on a dump body for the truck, a cinder spreader and a snowplow. The plow and cinder spreader will not see use this winter, it was pointed out, because it may be a couple of months before the truck is delivered to the place where the body will be installed. New Lenox has had a longer wait than that for a truck. The truck, plow, and spreader will be purchased under a sales contract program. The last session of the legislature empowered municipalities to do installment buying.

Stresses Need Of Early Education—Earlier The Better

New theories in education were discussed recently at a state-wide conference attended by Mrs. June Fant of Mokena. Mrs. Fant, area manager for Field Enterprises Educational Corporation (World Book/Childcraft) reported that research shows 50% of adult intelligence is achieved by age 4, and 70% by age 8.

"This is one of the reasons," said featured speaker Dr. Frances Horwich (Miss Frances, hostess on more than 1900 Ding Dong School programs) "that Project Head Start was so badly needed, and why it will be expanded next year."

"Later is too late," continued Dr. Horwich, "because the child's greatest hunger is the need to know. He must learn about himself and the world."

"More than one-third of American first-graders repeat that grade because they have not learned how to read."

Mrs. Fant said Dr. Horwich stressed the importance of books in the home, believing that "the feeling for books is caught, not taught." She believed that books can delight, entertain, and inform both children and adults. In a house where a child sees both parents reading, he becomes interested in books and ideas much more easily.

Mrs. Fant reported all educators attending the DeKalb conference agreed that answering a child's questions promptly and accurately was essential. Studies also show that a four-year-old may ask from 70-95 questions a day. (Many parents will say this figure is too low).

Parents in this area will soon have an opportunity to see "Miss Frances" again. The former professor, noted authority in preschool education, plans a return to television with new WFLD (channel 32) which began broadcasting Jan. 4.

As children's programming consultant for WFLD, Dr. Horwich is planning a new series for herself, to be premiered later this year. She'll also have a twice-weekly show for parents.

Wilmington 4-H'er District Winner In Corn Yield Contest

Willard Johnston of Wilmington, Will county, was named top yield winner in District 1, which covers a 20-county area in Northern Illinois, in the fourteenth annual Illinois 4-H X-tra Yield corn contest. He was presented a wrist watch for having produced 214 bushels per acre on his 5-acre plot. Willard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Johnston. He has been a 4-H member for seven years and is a member of the Florence Blue Ribbon 4-H Club.

A balanced high fertility program, plant population of 31,600 and row spacing of 30 inches, provided the combination to give Willard the highest yield in the district.

The award was presented at a special recognition luncheon held on the University of Illinois campus at Urbana.

Accompanying Willard to Urbana was Bruce Wichtendahl of Peotone, who won second place in the Will county 4-H X-tra Yield corn contest, his father and Will county farm advisers, A. A. Wicklein and Webster E. Bay.

Jerry Burnett of Metropolis, Massac county, had the highest yield of the five state districts with 227.5 bushels per acre on his five-acre plot.

Other district winners were: District 2, Greg Olson, Prairie City, McDonough county, with a yield of 222.7 bushels; District 3, John Smith, Broadlands, Champaign county, with a yield of 223.6 bushels; and District 4, Bennie Siegle, St. Francisville, Lawrence county, with a yield of 226 bushels.

All district winners were presented with wrist watches. The presentations were made by Melvin E. Sims, president of FS Services, Inc.

Fluoridation Too Expensive, Boards Finds

Assigned to investigate the cost of fluoridating the Frankfort water supply, Trustee Hames McLemore reported to the board Monday night that the initial outlay would be about $5,000.

The two pumps that would inject fluorine into the water would be $270 each and the two special meters that would be required in controlling the chemical flow of the chemically charged water would cost $2,000 each.

McLemore said that great care had to be used in fluoridating a water supply and that too much fluorine would be harmful to teeth. He added that such a close check was needed that it would really require the hiring of a special employee.

Board members agreed that the cost of the proposed treatment was prohibitive at this time. McLemore was to inform Dr. Joseph Petnuch, Frankfort dentist who has been urging fluoridation of the village water supply, of the board's position.

Both Mr. Heusner and Herman Barlewort, who retired from the Board in 1965, were elected honorary directors of the bank to serve in an advisory capacity.

The annual meeting was attended by over fifty stockholders and was followed by a dinner served by the Women's Guild of the St. Peter's church. Knights Beat Mustangs But Lose To Bremen Five

BY TOM SCARTH

What started out to be a victorious week-end for the Knights of Lincoln-Way after beating Evergreen 65 to 56, turned into a nightmare when the Bremen Braves battled their way back from an 11 point deficit to win 63 to 56 in last Saturday's conference bout.

In the Friday night contest, the Knights were pitted against E-P who boasted two of the top five point producers in the SWS in the persons of Steve Hackel and Earl Scholtens who tallied 24 points to lead the Mustangs.

The Knights held the upper hand in the first half of play by out scoring the Mustangs 20 to 14 in both the periods to take a comfortable 40 to 28 lead.

The third period saw the Knights connect for 14 points compared to the Mustangs 10.

The fourth period saw the L-W secondary enter the game. The Mustangs took advantage of this by cutting the lead to nine, but then the Knights starters re-entered the game and put E-P in its place.

Keith Schram was high point man for the Knights dropping in 16 points followed by Mike Seitzinger with 13, Karl Warning with 11, Dave Eden 10, Bill Stanfill 8, and Frank Fleck 6.

Saturday the Knights traveled to Midlothian to battle Bremen. The L-W quintet started out as usual jumping to an early first period lead 16 to 10 and adding to it in the second period by netting 14 points to Bremen's 11 making the midway score 30 to 21 in favor of Lincoln-Way.

Then came the dreadful third and fourth periods when the Braves out-fought, out-played and out-scored the Knights 42 to 28 to win with a final score of 63 to 56.

Game honors went to Jim Anderson of Bremen with 17 points and Bill Stanfill who also scored 17 points.

The Sophomore Knights also split the week-end bill beating Evergreen 63 to 31 and dropping an upset bid against Bremen.

Lincoln-Way will be host to the Oak Lawn quints tomorrow night. The Soph game is at 6:30 and the varsity contest is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

This ball game is played from the backs of trained donkeys and is reputed to be wilder than a rodeo and funnier than a circus.

The Sandburg Varsity club has announced that their players are now on a strict diet of mother's oats and raw carrots. Members of the Varsity club who will ride in the big game include the officers, Karl Pnazeck, Drew Corley, John Arnold and Bob Mulcahy, also lettermen Neal Foley, Jim McGhee and others.

They will be opposed by faculty members of Sandburg who have announced that their starting team is being kept secret for security reasons, but will probably include Coach Joe Devine and Coach Bill Adams.

The winner of the above match will play the champion winners of 1965 ... the Cheerleaders, including Pat Crawford, Carol Benson, Donna McNeil, Pat Howard, Joan Crowhurst, Ginger Pickman, Kim Weber, and others.

Tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from members of the Eagle Booster club, Glen Aronson GI 8-3819, Gene Broman GI 8-7062, and Ted Pnazeck GI 8-2629. Tickets are also available at Kosnar Drugs, Orland Plaza and Palos Sports and Hobby Shop, Palos Heights.

There has been a brisk sale of advance tickets, and as the capacity of the gym is limited ... those in charge advise purchase of tickets as soon as possible.

Softball

Persons interested in the formation of a soft ball league (16" ball) are invited to an organization meeting Jan. 24 at the home of Bill Frankenberg, Lincoln Estates.

At least two representatives should be present to represent each team, it was suggested.

Teams that have shown interest so far represent the towns of New Lenox, Arbury Hills, Tinley Park and Lincoln Estates. Bill Frankenberg said that as yet, he has received no indication of interest from Mokena or Frankfort. He stated that there were hopes that the VFW, Chamber of Commerce, or one of the businesses in these two towns might show an interest in organizing a team to represent them.

All sponsors, managers and players, seeking further information, may obtain it by calling the Bombers' manager, Tom Fordonski at 469-2051 or Bill Frankenberg at 469-2171 after 6 p.m.

Open Letter from the Hirschs

Dear friends,

At time of bereavement the family should promptly notify all companies in which insurance is carried to secure the proper claim forms. If you wish, we will assist in the correct completion of insurance forms.

Even lapsed insurance policies should be examined for the possibility of extended coverage. All policies on the lives of the survivors should be reviewed to consider changes in beneficiary.

Respectfully,

Urge Farmers Check Grain Under Loan

Farmers recently were urged to "keep a close check on" the condition of the grain under Commodity Credit Corporation loans which they have stored on their farms.

"It is more important than ever that farmers watch the condition of their stored loan-grain to see how well it is keeping," said Charles E. Deutschman, chairman Will County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Under the new program procedures, he explained, fewer inspections are made by the ASCS county office, and the farmer, therefore, has more responsibility for maintaining and watching his own stored grain. This is definitely to the farmer's advantage, since the final settlement of the loan will be based on the condition of the grain when it is delivered or the loan is paid off.

"If a check reveals that the grain is deteriorating and some loss might occur," the chairman said, "the farmer should notify the county office immediately so that arrangements may be worked out for early delivery. This will save the grain and at the same time benefit the farmer's pocket-book."

N. Central College Research Term Schedules Projects

More than 25 projects have been scheduled for the Mid-Winter Study and Research Term at North Central College which is in operation during January.

The Mid-Winter program, beginning its second year at the college, features some 17 on-campus projects and 11 off-campus projects as both faculty and selected students work in the month-long "free" period. The program is optional for students. Approximately one third of North Central's 900 students take part in some activity during the month.

Fall Semester activities concluded on the NCC campus on Dec. 21 and spring semester classes will not begin until Jan. 31. As explained by Dr. Victor C. Arnold, dean of North Central, the Mid-Winter term provides a period for faculty and selected students for uninterrupted, independent study and research, scholarly writing and participation in educational projects which supplement and enrich the academic program.

The program was accepted into the 1964-65 academic calendar by faculty vote and was reapproved for 1965-66 service.

Among the off-campus programs planned is a 21-day tour of Russia and other European nations in a study of comparative education.

Planned by Dr. G. A. Constantine, chairman of the education department at the college, the tour would include visits to schools in Moscow, Kiev and Tbilisi in addition to visits in London, Athens and both east and west Berlin.

A 21-day international business study tour is being conducted, Jan. 4-25, under the sponsorship and leadership of Robert J. Smith, instructor in economics and business. The itinerary for the tour includes visits to Great Britain, Switzerland and Belgium and is expected to provide, as Smith says, "an unusually close look at the economic and business conditions in selected areas of Europe today."

A 17-day tour and visit in Vera Cruz and the Mayan Highlands area of Mexico is another of the off-campus projects planned. It is under the sponsorship of the modern foreign language department and would visit such cities in Mexico as Mexico City, Oaxaca, Vera Cruz, Cuernavaca and San Cristobal de las Casas.

A six-day historical tour of Illinois and the Mark Twain area of Missouri, under the sponsorship of Dr. Clarence N. Roberts, chairman of the history department, would include visits to the State Capitol and Lincoln's Tomb in Springfield; Mormon country; the home of Ulysses S. Grant in Galena; the industrial areas of Rock Island and Moline and the Mark Twain cave and the Becky Thatcher home in Hannibal.

A four-phase survey program involving work with the Commission on Youth Welfare in Chicago, the Joint Youth Development committee of Chicago and at the Ecumenical Institute of Chicago, is under the direction of Dr. Richard G. Thurston, chairman of the department of sociology and anthropology.

A six-day program with emphasis on a "Theology and Culture" seminar at the Ecumenical Institute and tours of area seminaries will be conducted by the religion department during the latter part of the month.

Other off-campus activities include a 17-day, 20-city five state tour by the choir; a two-day tour by the forensics team and selected field trips to Chicago area business and industries under the sponsorship of the economics and business department.

On-campus activities will include such things as a Piano Workshop, led by Dr. Robert Pace, educational director for the National Piano Foundation, and an Opera Workshop.

Gift of W. Clement Stone

George Williams Gets $300,000 Check

George Williams College will receive $300,000 from W. Clement Stone because the College raised $700,000 in response to a challenge gift made by Stone last September, according to Dr.

Richard E. Hamlin, President of the College.

The total of $1,000,000 is the largest single fund raising accomplishment done in the shortest time span in the 75 year history of the College, and puts George Williams College over the top in the first phase of its $10,189,000 development fund program.

"We had hoped to raise $6,000,000 of the total $10,189,000 by the end of 1965 to meet commitments for construction of a new College Campus in Downers Grove, and for increasing the faculty and faculty salaries," Hamlin stated, "and last September, W. Clement Stone provided a way by offering to match dollar for dollar all contributions to the development fund up to $300,000 if we could raise a like amount by December 31, 1965."

"Spurred on by Mr. Stone's generous challenge, alumni and friends of George Williams College responded so well that we are now able to retain many features at the new campus that we otherwise might have been forced to postpone," Hamlin continued. "For this, for the impetus that W. Clement Stone has provided, and for the continued support of alumni and friends, George Williams College is deeply grateful. Encouraged by the support we have received thus far, we will continue to strive toward our total goal of $10,189,000 by 1970." Hamlin concluded.

The success of the fund drive enables the College to complete on schedule its Leisure and Creative Arts Center, a new concept in combining facilities for graphic arts, music, drama, and dance with those for swimming, gymnastics, games and other sports activities under one roof. The six-lane swimming pool in this facility is "L" shaped, allowing for both NCAA and Olympic competition.

Other features made possible by the Challenge Gift are soundproof, flexible walls to subdivide instructional areas, addition of the latest electronic equipment for language instruction, and finishing of some instructional and student activities facilities.

Informed of the results of the Matching Gift Fund Drive, Stone said, "The phenomenal response to my challenge by everyone interested in the future of George Williams College indicates to me that the future holds promise of even greater accomplishments. I am confident that the College will continue to fulfill the growing needs of youth service agencies throughout the world by providing the best possible education for young men and women preparing for careers in youth service."

Stone is President of Combined Insurance Company of America, and President of the Chicago Boys Clubs. A trustee of the College, he is widely known as an author and lecturer.

President Hamlin gave special credit to alumni of the College, who achieved their total fund goal of $235,000 for the development program, $20,000 of which was given during the Challenge drive. This represents a 300% increase in alumni giving in the past four years.

General Chairman for the alumni development program is Herman M. Hertog, Executive Secretary of the Park Ridge Department of the Metropolitan Chicago YMCA. In the greater Chicago area, Hertog is aided by two divisional chairmen, Mr. Hyman Levine, '44, Executive Secretary of the Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Research Division, and Otto W. Bauer, '28, Executive Secretary of the Lawson Department of the Metropolitan Chicago YMCA.

More than 1,000 George Williams alumni in youth service agencies around the world have contributed to date to the international alumni campaign.

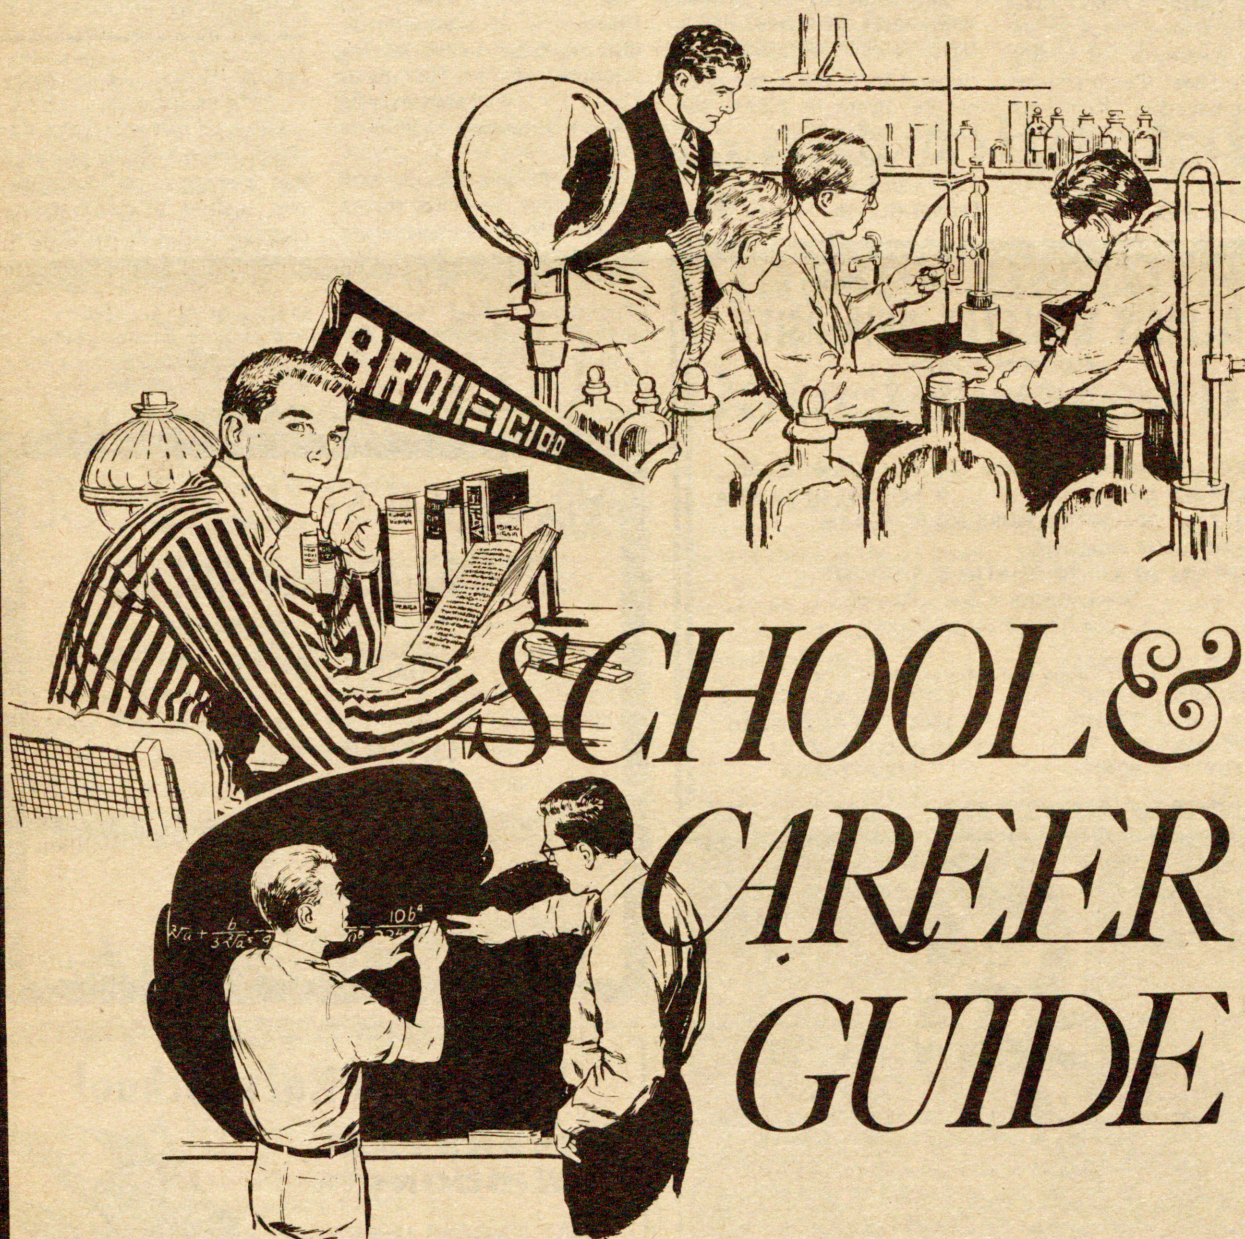

Fourteen major buildings, located at 555 31st. Street, are being readied for the campus opening in June. These include an Arts and Sciences Center, a 125,000 volume library and administration building, the Leisure and Creative Arts Center, Campus Center, a six-building single student residence hall complex, three married student housing units, and a central heating and maintenance plant.

Last summer the College sold its Hyde Park Campus to the University of Chicago to the University of Chicago.

Founded in 1890 as a training school for YMCA secretaries, the college has in recent decades prepared men and women for careers in a variety of recreational and social welfare fields. Currently more than 450 alumni hold positions in Chicago's volunteer and public youth serving agencies.

Chicago area donors have contributed $2,100,000 of the $6,000,000 received by the College in its development fund drive.

Chicago Career College: Q's and A's

Chicago Career College-- the area's newest vocational college -- offers a variety of career training in Airline, Secretarial, Modeling, Retailing and Travel Agency. To explain the scope of the school, perhaps the best way is to answer the questions asked recently at a lecture.

"How great is the demand for travel agents?"

Since travel is recognized as one of the fastest growing industries in the United States, the need for a Travel Agency school is apparent. The program equips the graduate to work with airline, steamship, rail, bus, hotel, motel, rental car and tour accommodations on both the domestic and international level. This career offers a rewarding future with exciting fringe benefits. Carriers often invite qualified agents on trips to far-away places ... entirely FREE -- orientation tours are offered at a fraction of the actual cost -- 75% discount on international air travel (around the world for a little over $300).

"Why do you have an airline training school when the airlines train their own employees?"

Because you must first be hired by an airline before they will train you. This is not easily attainable according to statistics -- out of 18,000 stewardess applicants, one airline hired 650 girls. Obviously it takes more than the "average, all-American girl." We not only prepare the girl physically--figure, hair care, make-up, visual poise, etc., we also set high academic goals. She is prepared to cope with situations that arise in her daily work and pass the standard six-month probationary period with flying colors -- every one of our graduates accepted by the airlines has thus far.

"What is retailing?"
Buying, fashion coordinating, fashion shows, sales promotion and window display are some of the exciting opportunities this training prepares the graduates to fill. The field of merchandising offers more executive positions for women than any other field. The average buyer earns between $10,000 and $20,000 ... some earn more.

"Don't models just happen?"

Of course not. Modeling is a strict taskmaster ... as demanding as a science. Top-flight models don't "just happen." Only constant, self-disciplined training can assure the necessary constant grace, the instinctive ability to interpret a mood, the ability to project voice and personality to an individual or a group. The model in greatest demand is one whose training is like that of a prima ballerina ... endless.

"How important is appearance for a secretary?"

The finishing and cultural features of the secretarial training at Chicago Career College are worthy of particular consideration. In addition to top skills in shorthand and typing, and thorough knowledge of secretarial procedures, today's secretary must look the part. The further a young woman progresses in her career, the more vital become those qualities of mind, appearance and character that denote the refined person. Executives usually look no further when they discover the CCC graduate. In her they find the perfectly-trained assistant ... the poised discreet young woman whose facility in matters of business matches her mastery of technical skills.

"Do you guarantee employment?"

We assume the responsibility of placing our graduates but a school cannot "guarantee" employment. A major feature of Chicago Career College is our free placement service. This service has three important functions: to provide guidance for students during their training, to help them obtain their first positions, and to counsel and assist alumnae who seek new positions. These services are also open to the general public.

Balcony Dining Offered At North Central

One of the innovations which students at North Central College will have the privilege of using when the facility is completed is balcony dining in the new dining center which will be connected to two residence halls.

The new dining center, which is proposed to accommodate 350 persons, is scheduled for completion this month, according to Dr. Arlo L. Schilling, North Central president.

The facility, connected to the E. E. Rall Residence Hall, a women's unit and the Geiger Residence Hall, a men's unit, by means of covered walkways, will present the attraction of balcony dining to the students. Selected off-campus groups will also be permitted to use the facility during campus meeting sessions.

Designed by Fridstein and Fitch, Chicago architectural firm, which designed the new Rall Hall, the dining facility will occupy the site of the former Kaufman Residence Hall which was partially razed to make room for the new structure.

According to specifications, the lower level of the dining facility will accommodate 165 persons while the balcony section will be capable of accommodating 194.

of it almost as a game. "We're learning an appreciation of cultures that differ from ours and the students can recognize valid religious insights in other traditions," said Dr. Whitehurst of the religion course.

but he is attending MacMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, on a graduate fellowship.

"Mr. Thakur says that communication between the Hindu and the Christian is difficult because we misinterpret basic Hinduism," said Dr. Whitehurst, who spent five months in India in 1965.

Mr. Thakur feels that Westerners take such things as the Hindu reincarnation of souls too literally.

The visitor feels that Christians take life too seriously. In contrast, Dr. Whitehurst feels that the Hindus are sometimes apathetic toward life and think

Eureka College To Open Men's Housing Complex

Founders' Court, the men's new housing complex, on the Eureka College campus, at Eureka, Ill., will be dedicated during Founders' Day services Feb. 4.

The five units of the new facility will carry the name of men influential in the development of the college, which was founded in 1855.

Planning and development of the housing seeks to carry out the purpose of Eureka -- that of maintaining the intimacy of a small college while growing at the rate demanded by the pressure of more students and economic necessity.

Four of the units contain living quarters with 16 students and a junior counselor on each of the two floors. Thus, 136 men can be housed in the complex. The fifth unit provides a large social area, a recreation area, rooms for the staff person in charge and utilities and other services for the entire complex.

Illinois Wesleyan U. Runs Hindu Dialogue

A Christian-Hindu dialogue is taking place in an Illinois Wesleyan University January Short Term course in Comparative Religions with the appearance of Madhu Thakur, an Indian graduate student visiting this week in Bloomington.

According to Dr. James Whitehurst, professor of religion, Mr. Thakur is a practicing Hindu and a member of the Brahmin class, the highest Indian class.

The willing student and the able teacher in advantageous surroundings.

Three Degrees Offered at Millikin U.

Millikin University is a four-year, church-related, coeducational institution, offering three undergraduate degrees and opportunities for graduate study in music and in education.

The Millikin campus is located one mile west of downtown Decatur, a city of 80,000 people.

A member of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEE), Millikin is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The University also has earned accreditation from the National Association of Schools of Music and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Current enrollment at Millikin is 1,350 men and women, while the faculty-student ratio is approximately 1 to 14. As building plans progress, the University is expected to grow to 1,500 full-time students by 1970.

Students admitted to Millikin are selected for their potential for doing college work. The student's record at an accredited secondary school, and his results on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the College Boards are two indicators of this potential and are required for admission. The Admissions Office also requires a favorable recommendation from an official of the student's secondary school, other personal recommendations, and a health examination.

At least 15 and preferably

16 units of work at an accredited high school are required for admission. The distribution varies somewhat depending on the choice of college major planned by the student.

All students in the University take a general core of courses in the liberal arts, while concentrating in depth in a major field. Students also take the same general education core if they elect a major in one of the two professional schools at the University.

Majors offered in the College of Arts and Sciences are: Art, biology, chemistry, English, foreign languages, French, history and political science, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical education, physics, psychology, religion, sociology, Spanish, and speech.

Certain interdepartmental majors are also available, representing combinations of philosophy, sociology, psychology, and religion.

Students who plan to teach at the elementary level major in a broad area concentration in language arts, science and mathematics, social science, or fine arts and speech. Students who plan to teach at the secondary level elect a major teaching field. In both cases, professional courses are taken to meet certification requirements.

Students enrolled in the School of Business and Industrial Management may elect majors in accounting, marketing, economics and management, industrial engineering, and welding engineering.

The Bachelor of Music degree curricula in the School of Music include applied music, church music, and music education. Music education majors elect a vocal or instrumental emphasis. Applied music majors may elect their principal applied area from piano, organ, voice, percussion, or one of the woodwind, brass, or stringed instruments.

Millikin also offers a B.S. degree with a major in nursing, in cooperation with the Decatur and Macon County Hospital School of Nursing, and a B.S. degree in medical technology.

Pre-professional programs are offered in medicine, dentistry, law, and medical technology. In these curricula, students spend three years at Millikin, then transfer to an accredited professional school to work toward the professional degree. At the end of the first year at the professional school, provided certain requirements are met, the student receives his Millikin degree.

Students may qualify for college credit and advanced standing through the Advanced Placement Examinations administered by the

The liberal arts building at Millikin University, Decatur, one of the original four buildings on the campus. The modified Elizabethan style of architecture shown here is followed in approximately eight other buildings on campus.

Rosary College to Initiate Four-Year M.A. Program

Recognizing the increased amount of advanced study completed by today's high school seniors, Rosary College, River Forest, will initiate a new concept in higher education next September.

The planned program will enable qualified freshmen to earn the master of arts degree in four years. (Ordinarily, college students are awarded the bachelor of arts degree after four years while the M.A. degree takes at least an additional year to earn.)

"Rosary is inaugurating this program as one way to recognize recent changes in both graduate and secondary schools," Sister Candida, president, says. "The number of freshmen entering Rosary each fall with some of their college requirements completed increases yearly. Part of the study formerly reserved for college freshmen is being done at the secondary level.

"For example, many high schools are now offering a fifty-year-level course in French and Spanish. In the past 10 years, the advanced placement program to validate college level work done in high school has grown by 3,000 per cent.

"It is generally accepted that the greater distinction lies between the M.A. and the Ph.D. degrees rather than between the B. A. and the M. A.," she adds.

Elmhurst College Profile

Elmhurst College is a four-year co-educational college of liberal arts with a background of nearly a century of high academic tradition. It is an affiliate of the United Church of Christ.

The 34-acre campus, located in the heart of Elmhurst, consists of eleven buildings enclosing a large quadrangle: five residence halls, two classroom buildings, library, gymnasium, chapel and union. In addition, there is an athletic field and a power plant.

Currently under construction and scheduled for completion in September of this year is a $2,069,000 science center.

The college confers only the bachelor of arts degree, with the purpose of concentration on the liberal arts as the basis for teacher education, business administration, and pre-professional work. Radio, TV Director To Speak At Soil District Dinner

Orion Samuelson, farm service director, for radio and television station WGN, will speak at the annual meeting of the Will - South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, to be held Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 6:30 p.m. at Fred Francis 4-H Field, New Lenox.

A roast beef dinner, to be served by the Will County Homemakers Extension Association, will precede the meeting. Tickets for the affair are now on sale at $2.50 per person and may be purchased from any conservation leader or at the District office at 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet.

The guest speaker was born and raised on a 200 acre dairy farm in western Wisconsin. He has been in radio since 1952, and is presently supervising an early morning broadcast of market reports from Chicago's Union Stockyards, Chicago Board of Trade, and Chicago Mercantile Exchange, over WGN-TV. In addition, two programs, offering outstanding farm service are presented daily - Milking Time at 5:30 to 6:00 a.m. and Country Fair at 12:05 to 1:00 p.m. Samuelson also serves as the host of "Top O' The Mornin'," a color television show dealing with agriculture presented on WGN-TV daily from 7:00 to 7:25 a.m.

Samuelson has been honored many times by his farm audiences, including national recognition while serving as farm director of WBAY radio and television in Green Bay, Wis. and at WGN radio and television in Chicago.

Recent awards include honorary state farmer degrees from the Future Farmers of America in Wisconsin and Illinois; the National Safety Council Award for promotion of farm safety in 1962 and 1963; the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce and Industry "Chicagoan of the Year in Agriculture Award" for 1963; and a citation from the 12,000 dairy farmer members of Pure Milk Association for outstanding service to mid-west dairy farmers thru news reporting on radio and television.

He also is active in several agricultural organizations and was elected secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Television-Radio Farm Directors in 1963; elected national vice-president in 1964 and now serving as national president since his election in 1965.

He is married and has one son and daughter.

At the district meeting an election will be held to name three directors to the district board.

"Corn Countdown" Today And Jan. 27 At Francis Field

Will and South Cook counties will join 66 other Illinois counties in a "blast-off" to higher corn yields. University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service specialists will discuss the growth of the corn plant, advantages of early planting, ideal seedbed preparation, optimum fertility, selection a money-making hybrid and adequate plant populations, increasing available moisture and effective insect and weed control, says Will County Farm Adviser A. A. Wicklein and Cook County Farm Adviser William Whit-Farm Adviser William Whiteside.

Meetings in Will and South Cook counties will be held today, Jan. 20 and Jan. 27 at Francis 4-H Field, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Knowing how the corn plant grows is important when one starts relating rates of fertilizer and amounts of moisture to critical times in the plant's life, says Wicklein. Moisture is usually more plentiful in mid-July than in August, so early planting usually insures better pollination--and better seed set--than later planting.

Research proves that moisture is one of the main limiting factors in corn production at some period in most years. Minimum tillage helps to conserve moisture and reduces the cost of production because it reduces trips across the field. Yields from minimum-tilled and conventionally tilled corn are about the same.

Vigorous hybrids that withstand high plant populations and high fertility will be discussed, as well as narrow rows and single-plant hills and multiple-plant hills, says Whiteside.

Entomologists will discuss insect controls, including a review of resistance of the northern corn rootworm and the southwestern corn borer and other insects that are giving corn producers trouble. Weed specialists will discuss the combination of herbicides that will provide most effective weed control and also herbicides for use in fertilizer carriers.

Postal Dept. Raises Special Service Fees

Proposed increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates to be effective March 26, have been announced by the post office department.

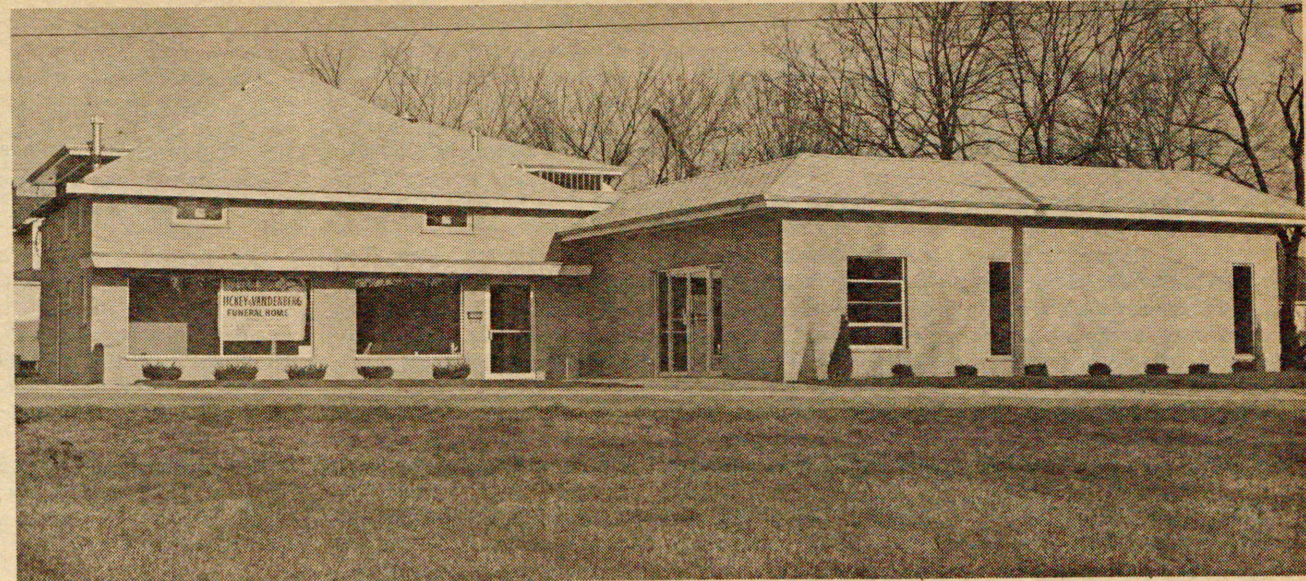

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The proposed fee increases would narrow the cost revenue by $36 million, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965, it was stated.

The new fees are the first changes since 1961.

No legislation is needed for such changes, it was said.

The increases cover: Money order fees: Domestic and international money order fees would be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance fees: The minimum fee bracket would be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee would be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. Most other fees would be increased 10 cents. The maximum fee, now 40 cents, would be increased to 60 cents for values above $150 to $200.

Formal Opening Of Hickey Funeral Home At Tinley Sunday

The formal opening of the new Hickey & Vandenberg Funeral Home, 6730 W. 174th st., Tinley Park, will take place Sunday, Jan. 23, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Robert J. Hickey, Carl R. Vandenberg and James T. Hickey are the owners.

The Hickey Funeral Homes were established in 1928, when James T. Hickey, father of Robert, came to Bremen township with his wife, Lillian, and purchased the Oak Forest funeral home from the late John E. Mohr, and then moved the business to a building there which he purchased from William Funk of Tinley Park. The funeral home was remodeled and modernized by Hickey, who operated it until September, 1947, when he sold his interest in the business.

In 1938, the Hickey Funeral Home at 2429 W. 127th st., Blue Island, was opened and this modern-air-conditioned chapel is still serving the community.

On April 29, 1956 the modern well-appointed chapel at 4201 W. 147th st., Midlothian, was opened and in October, 1965, was enlarged to four parlors and display area was also enlarged.

Robert J. Hickey joined his father in the business after graduating from college in 1947.

Robert is the husband of the former Myrtle McGurk and is the father of seven children. They reside in Midlothian.

Carl R. Vandenberg joined the Hickey Funeral Home in 1949 and has been actively associated with the business, except for two years while in the army grave registration division in Korea. He is the husband of the former Jean Hickey. They are parents of five children and they plan to live in Tinley Park.

The Hickey & Vandenberg Funeral Home will operate its own fleet of livery vehicles, including two ambulances that will be available to residents of the area.

NEW FUNERAL HOME - Recently completed, the Hickey-Vandenberg Funeral Home will hold an open house for the public to view their facilities at 6730 W. 174th st., Tinley Park, Sunday, Jan. 23, from 2 to 8 p.m.

PRAISES ORLAND POLICE

Dear Sir: I am one of the victims of one of the four separate accidents which occurred in Orland Park on Thursday evening Dec. 30, 1965. Because these four accidents all happened within eight minutes your police department was very busy. However, this did not in any way affect their attitude. The two officers who helped us, Ron Marth and Jack Tooley as well as the other members of the department were the most courteous and thoughtful I have ever seen. To the people of Orland Park I say, you can be thankful and proud to have such law enforcement people. Policemen like these are an asset and a favorable advertisement for your community, your police department and your police chief.

Sincerely yours,
William R. Dyon

WELL, FOLKS, IT'S HERE AGAIN - INCOME TAX TIME

Taxpayers are receiving notices thru the mail that the 1966 filing period is under way, and time to file 1965 Federal income tax returns. The notices come in packages with 1040 or 1040A forms, instructions and schedules. For the first time the sales tax table has been included in the 1040 instruction pamphlet.

Director E. C. Coyle, Jr., of the Chicago district, explained the basic filing requirements. Every citizen or resident of the United States - whether an adult or minor - who had $600 or more gross income in 1965 is required to file a return. For taxpayers 65 or over a return is not required unless gross income was at least $1,200.

The tax forms mailed to the taxpayers are pre-addressed. Mr. Coyle asks that these forms be used for filing purposes. This will help assure correct crediting to the taxpayer's account and will facilitate processing of tax returns, including issuance of refunds. If any changes of spelling or address are required they can be made on the pre-addressed form.

Returns should be filed as soon after January 1 as possible, but not later than April 15. Taxpayers of the twenty-six counties of northern Illinois should file their returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue, 17 N. Dearborn st., Chicago, 60602.

Mr. Coyle urges you to get your information and records together and file as soon as you can. You are encouraged to prepare your own return. The Internal Revenue Service has helped ease your problem by pre-

KRUSEMARK DELEGATE TO GOP CONCLAVE

Will county delegates to the Illinois Republican state conference at Springfield this month were approved at a meeting of the entire Will county Republican central committee Thursday night, Jan. 13, according to Thomas Feehan, county chairman. The meeting was held at the Woodruff hotel in Joliet.

The central committee approved the names of 25 delegates and named Feehan chairman of the delegation. The state conference, scheduled Jan. 28 and 29, is to recommend Republican candidates for the June 14 primary election.

Delegates selected represent the 25 "executive districts" of the county, according to Feehan. The Republican precinct committeemen of each district nominated one delegate for approval by the central committee. "Purpose of this selection system," Feehan noted, "is to insure all areas of Will county are represented at this important conference." The delegate from this area is Albert H. Krusemark, Frankfort.

paring the instructional material, provided with the tax forms, that is easy to read and understand, taxmen say.

Various government publications, notably the tax guides, will be available at all local Internal Revenue offices.

The 1966 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax" consisting of 160 pages provides a complete explanation of the revenue laws as they apply to individuals. Copies may be purchased for 50 cents at any Internal Revenue office.

Telephone service will be maintained thru April 15. As in past years, a staff of experts will be assigned to provide tax information and advice. For a quick and correct answer to tax questions call State 2-1060. The service is individual, free from interruption and should prove helpful in the preparation of your return, Coyle believes.

For those taxpayers unable to resolve their tax problems by telephone, assistance may be obtained from local offices. There is one in Joliet at 201 N. Ottawa St.; at Kankakee, 475 E. Court st.; at Harvey, 15325 S. Page ave.
